Marla has played an essential role in helping grow my practice in the last year. She has tremendous resources at her disposal. When I first met her two years ago, we developed a long term plan which gave my practice direction. In the interim, Marla was indispensable in helping us plan major patient events. She made a great impact on increasing the professionalism of our events which led to a direct positive reflection on my practice. She oversaw many aspects of the logistics of our events while also pleasantly and professionally greeting prospective patients. I have relied on Marla for an overview of trends in Plastic Surgery and aesthetics. Her international presence helps us to stay on the cutting edge of new trends. We have now started construction on a larger office and Marla has provided extremely valuable insight into how to make the office layout both efficient, beautiful and cost effective. I highly recommend consulting with Marla if you are seeking a resource to help you grow and improve your aesthetics practice or med spa.

As a physician with no prior experience with aesthetic medicine, Marla was instrumental in my training of laser esthetics as well as arranging workshops for additional training and education. She is very thorough, and takes the time to explain everything clearly. Marla has un-ending enthusiasm for her work and makes sure the time spent with her is filled to the max! She was essential in getting our practice operational.

Marla brought into our practice a contagious energy that instilled upon our staff the need to be totally educated in the products that we sell as well as the procedures we perform. Marla's thorough knowledge of products and ingredients as well as the science behind the procedures is unparalleled in the industry. In learning about our patient base we are better able to manage our business and better serve our clients. Marla was instrumental in propelling our practice to the next level.

Marla worked as an aesthetic consultant for our practice. Because we were a medical and allergy practice the challenges were unique. Her recommendations have been invaluable. All components of our practice have thrived without one being at the expense of the other. While being competent and professional she is also has an exuberant and warm personality with genuine concerns for the well being of all the people she works with.

I recently purchased an IPL machine, the first in the Barbados. Marla Kragel came to train me on its use, business set up and cosmeceutical skin care. I found her training sessions exemplary! Her business and clinical knowledge are excellent. She came highly recommended from peers in the industry. I would highly recommend her training course to anyone worldwide.
